

Dr. John Gliatto joined Marshfield Labs on February 20, 2017. He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania School of Veterinary Medicine and was a clinician in mixed (large and small) animal practices in Pennsylvania. He received graduate training and a PhD in veterinary pathology from Louisiana State University and was on the faculty of Tufts University School of Veterinary medicine as an associate professor of pathology. For the last 16 years Dr. Gliatto was a senior staff pathologist at Antech Diagnostics in Massachusetts.

Special Interests include:

General diagnostic pathology

Renal pathology

Oncological pathology

